★ THE GREYBOY ALLSTARS @ La Zona Rosa

All-Star Pick ★

The members of The Greyboy Allstars, particularly keyboardist and Robert Walter and expansive saxophonist Karl Denson, have found as much success since the group's "split" as they did while still together. The solid, soulful jam band has reunited sporadically over the past couple of years, but the reunion seems to have stuck, first with live shows and later on last year's What Happened To Television?, the first Greyboy studio album since 1997. The sound makes sense, as it saunters through new jazz-funk sounds that the Greyboys very much like to call "boogaloo." Opening: Leon Mobley.
